Oxford plans to offer generous non-repayable bursaries of up to £5,000 per year for UK first-degree undergraduates from the lowest-income households*. ox.ac.uk/2020ugsupport

OXFORD FUNDING

IS YOUR HOUSEHOLD INCOME £27,500 OR LESS?
If you are a UK-resident studying for your first degree and your household income is £27,500 or less, we will offer you a non-repayable Moritz–Heyman Bursary worth up to £5,000 per year towards study and living costs. The Moritz–Heyman Scholarship also provides access to funded internships to develop employability skills, volunteering opportunities and social and community-building events.

If you do not take up your Moritz–Heyman Scholarship, but have a qualifying household income, you will be eligible for an Oxford Bursary of between £3,200 and £2,000.

IS YOUR HOUSEHOLD INCOME BETWEEN £27,501 AND £42,875?
If you are a first-degree UK student and your household income is £42,875 or less, you will be eligible to receive a non-repayable Oxford Bursary to help with the costs of studying and living in Oxford. The bursary amount will depend on your household income:

ARE YOU A CARE LEAVER?
If you have ever been in care for more than three months, Oxford will provide you with a non-repayable annual bursary of up to £3,000 so that you have additional funding to help with costs during the vacations. If you qualify for this additional support you will be notified by the University automatically at the start of your course. As both a Moritz–Heyman Scholar and a care leaver, you would be eligible for a total maximum annual bursary of £7,200.

ARE YOU AN ESTRANGED STUDENT WITHOUT FAMILY SUPPORT?
If you are estranged from your family, Oxford will provide you with non-repayable annual bursaries of up to £3,000 so that you have additional funding to help with costs during the vacations. You can apply for this additional support from the start of your course. As both a Moritz–Heyman Scholar and an estranged student, you would be eligible for a total maximum annual bursary of £7,200.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE ‘FINANCIALLY-ASSESSED’ OR ‘MEANS-TESTED’?
If you want to be considered for Oxford funding (and additional maintenance support if you are from the UK) your household income will need to be assessed by your funding agency. Although much of this process is automated, you and anyone supporting your student finance application may need to provide certain financial information.

* Final confirmation of Oxford’s funding package by the Office for Students (OfS) is expected in summer 2019.
WHAT COSTS ARE THERE?

Oxford living costs
In 2019–20, living costs are estimated to be between £1,060 and £1,645 per month. You will usually need to be in Oxford for around six months of the year (three terms of eight weeks each), but you might find it beneficial to budget over nine months to cover the full academic year. Oxford course fees
Your Oxford course fees in 2020–21 will be confirmed in autumn 2019 at www.ox.ac.uk/ugfees.

WHAT FUNDING IS THERE?

Current UK (Home) students undertaking their first undergraduate degree can access government funding towards the cost of studying at University. Available funding depends on household income and where you are from in the UK. www.gov.uk/student-finance

Further information on government support arrangements for 2020 will be confirmed from autumn 2019.

Current UK (Home) students undertaking their first undergraduate degree can access a tuition fee loan from the UK government for the full amount of the course fees. Currently you are only expected to begin to pay back your Student Finance loan support once you leave your course and are earning over a set amount. www.gov.uk/student-finance

Further information on government support arrangements for 2020 will be confirmed from autumn 2019.

WHAT IF I AM FROM THE REST OF THE EU?

Fee rates and support for EU students starting a course in the academic year 2020–21 have not yet been confirmed. EU applicants should refer to our dedicated webpage at ox.ac.uk/students/oxford-and-the-eu for details of the implications of the UK’s plans to leave the European Union.

Already studied for a degree?
If you have studied at undergraduate level before and completed your course, you will be classed as an Equivalent or Lower Qualification student (ELQ). You won’t receive Government or University support. If you did not complete your degree, the funding you have already received will be taken into account so you might not get funding for the full length of your course.
