

Adam von Trott Study Bursaries at Oxford & Göttingen Universities

2021 / 2022 Academic Year

A study bursary scheme has been set up to commemorate Adam von Trott, who studied both at Oxford University (at Mansfield and Balliol Colleges) and at Göttingen University. The scheme has been put in place via the Oxford Adam von Trott Memorial Committee.

Adam von Trott zu Solz (1909 – 1944), was a German lawyer and diplomat involved in resistance to Nazism. He participated in the Kreisau Circle, which planned the reorganisation of Germany after the fall of Nazism, and in Claus von Stauffenberg's plot to kill Hitler on 20 July 1944. After the plot failed, Adam was put to death in Berlin on 26 August, 1944.

Each award – two are on offer for this coming year following Covid-19 - of €1,365 will allow a graduate scholar from Oxford to spend up to a month to pursue studies in Göttingen (and a graduate scholar from Göttingen to spend up to a month to pursue studies in Oxford). Adam von Trott Bursary holders will be able to meet other relevant scholars, carry out research, make use of libraries and archives, and attend relevant seminars and lectures. It is also envisaged that they visit the new Adam von Trott Stiftung at his family home in Imshausen, near to Göttingen.

Applicants will need to specify how their work will relate to the general themes of this cooperation - including democracy, peace, resistance, conscientious thinking, and European and international affair – and their specific reasons for applying, such as access to specialist libraries; supervision with desired tutors; taught programmes, or relevant field work. Successful candidates will be expected to provide a detailed report on their bursary visit - including benefits obtained from the award. Bursary holders are expected to be self-directed, and will need to negotiate their own study arrangements at Oxford and Göttingen – with guidance and support available.

Successful candidates will be encouraged to take up this opportunity in either Hilary or Trinity Term in 2022, but in the event of Covid-19 restrictions, even Michaelmas Term 2022.

- ❑ Applications for the AvT Göttingen Bursary are now invited as soon as possible from graduates studying at Oxford University, to go to in the first instance to: paul.flather@retired.ox.ac.uk
- ❑ Please send a cv, a letter outlining your plan of study, indicate possible supervisors, collaborator, and at least one academic reference (Please note knowledge of German will be an advantage, but is not essential)
- ❑ The deadline for application is January 15th 2022, with committee selections by the end of January

Issued via the Oxford Adam von Trott Memorial Committee, Chair Dr Paul Flather
c/o Mansfield College, Mansfield Rd, Oxford, OX1 3TF

<https://www.mansfield.ox.ac.uk/adam-von-trott-memorial-appeal>