GRADUATE ADMISSIONS STATISTICS

The figures in the tables refer to candidates who applied for admission to graduate programmes commencing in the academic year 2020-21.

Graduate programmes offered by the University of Oxford fall into two broad categories: research and taught.

Students on research programmes engage in research under the supervision of an academic, with whom they meet regularly. Supervisors provide advice about the specific project, the nature of research, data collection methods, and the standards expected. As part of their research degree, students often attend courses on specific research skills as well as a range of seminars and lectures.

Taught programmes usually involve a range of core and optional courses and the submission of a dissertation. Assessment may be by coursework, as well as by examination papers and a dissertation. Study is supported by seminars and lectures.

Figures for offers include all conditional or unconditional offers made by academic departments or faculties of the are organised into four academic divisions and the Department for Continuing Education.

Figures for acceptances represent the number of candidates who returned a signed University contract indicating their acceptance of a place on a graduate programme. All graduate students at the University of Oxford are members of both a department or faculty, and a college.

Candidates are permitted to submit applications for more than one graduate programme of study per year; so the number of applications submitted exceeds the number of individuals who applied in any one year.

24,566 applications (71.2%) were received from candidates with a country of domicile outside of the UK

3,718 (10.8%) were domiciles of EU countries

20,848 (60.4%) were domiciles of non-EU countries

9,943 (28.8%) were domiciles of the United Kingdom

COLLEGE

Figure 6. Candidates accepting a graduate place by college or Permanent Private Hall

Non-Matriculated

Students on certain postgraduate certificate and diploma programmes (mainly within the Department for Continuing Education) are not affiliated to a college and do not attend a matriculation ceremony to become members of the University.

Permanent Private Hall (PPH)

Permanent Private Halls are licensed by the University to matriculate students for degrees. They were founded by various Christian denominations and still retain their religious character.
