

Course Information Sheet for entry in 2018-19

PGDip in Strategy and Innovation

About the course

The Oxford Postgraduate Diploma (PGDip) in Strategy and Innovation is a graduate qualification designed to enhance your ability to take effective strategic decisions in today's dynamic business environment, and to innovate for competitive advantage. Designed for senior managers, this intellectually rich programme will extend your knowledge and broaden and deepen your skill base, with a clear focus on practical application.

The programme is based on four taught modules of four days each in the areas of strategy, innovation and entrepreneurship, international business and strategy execution. The modular programme structure allows you to study alongside employment and complete a prestigious University of Oxford graduate-level qualification in one year.

The modules currently offered are:

- Strategy
- Entrepreneurship and Innovation
- Globalisation and Strategy
- Strategy in Action.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Strategy and Innovation offers:

- a graduate-level qualification from the University of Oxford which builds on your existing professional development and experience;
- the highest standards of academic rigour with a practical approach to developing strategic thinking and execution, entrepreneurship, and innovation in a global environment;
- access to top-level teaching from world-leading experts, drawing on the University of Oxford's strengths in strategy, innovation and entrepreneurship;
- membership of a unique network of peers and practitioners from around the globe; and
- lifelong association with the university through the business school, university alumni networks and associate college membership, as well as a pathway to Oxford's Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA).

The Postgraduate Diploma in Strategy and Innovation adopts an assessment regime that requires participants to take four courses and satisfy the examiners in the assessment associated with each core course. Assessment will be a combination of written examinations, and individual assignments.

The department's website provides further information about deposits for this course.

Additional cost information

As part of your course requirements, you will need to choose a final project topic. Depending on your choice of topic and the research required to complete it, you may incur additional expenses, such as travel expenses, research expenses, and field trips. You will need to meet these additional costs, although you may be able to apply for small grants from your department to help you cover some of these expenses. Please note that this course requires that you are taught in Oxford, and you will need to incur travel and accommodation costs to attend the course if you do not live in the Oxford area.

Living costs

In addition to your tuition fees, you will need to ensure that you have adequate funds to support your living costs for the duration of your course.

The likely living costs for 2018-19 are published below. These costs are based on a single, full-time graduate student, with no dependants, living in Oxford. We provide the cost per month so you can multiply up by the number of months you expect to live in Oxford.

	Likely living costs for 1 month		Likely living costs for 9 months		Likely living costs for 12 months
