

TAKING YOUR ONLINE EXAM

MIXED MODE

Last updated: Tuesday 7 December 2021

Before your exam

Know the date your exam is taking place and the start time.

Log into Inspira with your Oxford single-sign on (SSO) to make sure you can.

Have multi-factor authentication (MFA) set up on your mobile and also have an additional method of authentication, e.g. the Authy app setup on your computer.

PRATICE using Inspira.

Explore the relevant demo tests. Practice using the typed response box. Practice scanning pages of handwritten work and uploading them as a PDF.

Take the practice test associated with your exam. This will be found under 'My tests' when it is available.

Starting your exam

At least a few days before it opens, you will see your exam in My tests.

Select Click here to get ready.

You'll see the Honour Code Pledge - you're agreeing to this by proceeding.

When you're ready to begin, click Start test. Your time starts now.

Writing your exam response

Your exam questions will be presented within the test, or attached to the test as a PDF (which opens in a separate browser window).

In Mixed Mode, you are mainly typing your response and submitting some additional diagrams or scanned content.

Type your answers into the typed response box(es).

Use the tool bar to expand your view of the response box and format your content.

Leave enough time to scan / convert to PDF and upload any elements completed outside of Inspira.

Do not include your name or student number - your exam response needs to remain anonymous.

Submitting your exam response

When you select the 'tick' icon, you'll see a summary of the questions you've attempted and the option to submit.

When you press 'submit', your responses will be considered final, and you will not be able to edit them.

Only press 'submit' when your test has ended (the timer has expired).

Or - if you want to submit early - make sure you triple check your completed responses before you press 'submit'.

After your exam

A message on-screen will confirm you have submitted.

You will be provided with a read-only copy of your exam responses. These are for your own reference only.

Other students may still be sitting this exam, due to exam adjustments or being resident outside of the UK. You must not discuss this exam with other students, or on social media, until 36 hours after the exam opened.
