

Course Information Sheet for entry in 2016-17

PGDip in Global Business

About the course

The Oxford Diploma in Global Business is a master's-level qualification designed to help you undertake the senior international responsibilities which drive organisational success. This part-time programme will enhance your understanding of the issues involved in conducting business in a global landscape whilst allowing you to fulfil your existing work commitments.

The programme will be offered on a part-time basis and will comprise four modules and a business project. Each module will be multi-subject, presenting elements from some or all of the following modules:

- Global Strategy, Risk and Reputation
- Corporate Diplomacy in a Global Context
- The Challenges of Business in Emerging Markets

This is an intellectually rich programme designed to extend knowledge and broaden and deepen your skill base, with a clear focus on practical application. The diploma will provide the knowledge and skills you need to reach the highest level of your career, whether you are managing in a commercial or public sector context. It has a focus on global strategy, risk and reputation, corporate diplomacy and international business challenges.

The Diploma in Global Business offers:

- the ability to apply knowledge learned in the areas of global business strategy, risk and reputation, corporate diplomacy and doing business in emerging economies to your current and future roles, and compete internationally for senior management posts;
- a graduate-level qualification which builds on your existing professional development and experience;
- access to top-level teaching from world-leading experts, drawing on Oxford University's strengths in global business and management;
- membership of a unique network of peers and practitioners from around the globe; and
- lifelong association with the university through the business school, university networks and college membership - and a pathway to the Oxford Executive MBA.

The Diploma in Global Business adopts an assessment regime that requires you to take four courses and satisfy the examiners in the assessment associated with each core course. You will also submit a project not exceeding 10,000 words, and satisfy the examiners in the assessment associated with the project. Assessment will be a combination of written examinations and individual assignments.

Changes to courses

The University will seek to deliver each course in accordance with the descriptions set out above. However, there may be situations in which it is desirable or necessary for the University to make changes in course provision, either before or after registration. For further information, please see the University's Terms and Conditions.

Additional cost information

Please note that this course requires that you attend in Oxford for teaching, and you may incur additional travel and accommodation expenses for this. Further, as part of your course requirements, you may need to choose a dissertation, a project or a thesis topic. Depending on your choice of topic and the research required to complete it, you may incur additional expenses, such as travel expenses, research expenses, and field trips. You will need to meet these additional costs, although you may be able to apply for small grants from your department and/or college to help you cover some of these expenses.

Living costs

In addition to your fees, you will need to ensure that you have adequate funds to support your living costs for the duration of your course.

The likely living costs for 2016-17 are published below. These costs are based on a single, full-time graduate student, with no dependants, living in Oxford. We provide the cost per month so you can multiply up by the number of months you expect to live in Oxford.

	Likely living costs for 1 month		Likely living costs for 9 months		Likely living costs for 12 months
