

Course Information Sheet for entry in 2017-18

PGDip in Organisational Leadership

About the course

This master's-level graduate diploma develops you as a leader who can navigate the complexities of 21st century business. The Postgraduate Diploma (PGDip) in Organisational Leadership is designed for high achievers in significant management roles to question assumptions about management practice and build a deeper understanding of how to manage people and organisations for competitive advantage.

Taught in four modules of four days each and completed in 13 months the Postgraduate Diploma in Organisational Leadership combines the academic rigour expected of a University of Oxford graduate-level qualification with a practical approach to the study of strategic management, organisational development and design, and leadership.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Organisational Leadership offers:

- a graduate-level qualification from the University of Oxford which builds on your existing professional development and experience
- a deeper understanding of how to manage people and organisations, and of your own approach to the complexities of strategic management
- focus on the reality of leadership in hard times such as delivering the hard messages while maintaining motivation, and focusing on essentials while watching out for other factors that could affect performance
- access to top-level teaching from world-leading experts, drawing on the University of Oxford's strengths in leadership and organisational behaviour
- lifelong association with the university through the business school, university networks and college membership - and a pathway to Oxford's Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA).

The Postgraduate Diploma in Organisational Leadership adopts an assessment regime that requires participants to take four courses and satisfy the examiners in the assessment associated with each core course. Assessment will be a combination of written examinations, and individual assignments.

Changes to courses

The University will seek to deliver each course in accordance with the descriptions set out above. However, there may be situations in which it is desirable or necessary for the University to make changes in course provision, either before or after registration. For further information, please see the University's Terms and Conditions.

Additional cost information

Please note that this course requires that you attend in Oxford for teaching, and you may incur additional travel and accommodation expenses for this. Further, as part of your course requirements, you may need to choose a dissertation, a project or a thesis topic. Depending on your choice of topic and the research required to complete it, you may incur additional expenses, such as travel expenses, research expenses, and field trips. You will need to meet these additional costs, although you may be able to apply for small grants from your department and/or college to help you cover some of these expenses.

Living costs

In addition to your fees, you will need to ensure that you have adequate funds to support your living costs for the duration of your course.

The likely living costs for 2017-18 are published below. These costs are based on a single, full-time graduate student, with no dependants, living in Oxford. We provide the cost per month so you can multiply up by the number of months you expect to live in Oxford.

	Likely living costs for 1 month		Likely living costs for 9 months		Likely living costs for 12 months
