

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD RECOGNISED STUDENT TERMS & CONDITIONS

Contract with the University

1. The purpose of these Terms and Conditions is to set out the contractual basis for your relationship with the University, and to draw your attention to key terms.
2. Your contract with the University is made up of:
 - a. The documents provided with these Terms and Conditions. These include:
 - i. these Terms and Conditions;
 - ii. the Student Handbook; and
 - iii. the offer letter from your department.
 - b. The University's Statutes and Regulations, and rules and policies made under them (see paragraph 7 below).
3. Your formal offer of a place at the University is set out in the offer letter from your department (the "Offer"). By accepting your Offer you enter into your contract with the University. Please note that your Offer is likely to be subject to academic and/or financial conditions.

Status of a Recognised Student

4. Recognised Students are students undertaking research who are normally registered with another university and who are admitted by a department or faculty at Oxford to undertake or contribute to a research project. In these Terms and Conditions the word "department" is used for both departments and faculties.
5. To be a Recognised Student you must be either:
 - a. in a position such that none of your commitments to the University under this contract will conflict with any obligations to an employer or to any other party; or
 - b. in employment and have obtained your employer's agreement to your working at Oxford under the terms of your contract with the University.
6. As a Recognised Student you:
 - a. will not matriculate or be a member of one of the University's constituent colleges or permanent private halls;
 - b. will not be entitled to be a member of the Oxford University Student Union ("OUSU"), but may be entitled to be an associate member at OUSU's discretion;
 - c. will be entitled to be an external member of clubs and societies registered with the University;
 - d. will not become an alumni of the University as a result of your studies; and
 - e. will not receive an Oxford qualification or any formal accreditation for your studies at Oxford.

University Statutes, Regulations and Policies

7. By accepting your Offer you agree to comply with the University's Statutes and Regulations as amended from time to time and with the Statements and Codes of Policy, Practice and Procedure which are made under them. Links to these are set out at <http://www.admin.ox.ac.uk/statutes/>, <http://www.admin.ox.ac.uk/iso/statutes/> and <http://www.admin.ox.ac.uk/examregs/>. They include:
 - a. the University's Code of Discipline under Statute XI (a copy of which is attached to these Terms and Conditions). This sets out behaviour which is considered unacceptable by students and which may result in disciplinary action.
 - b. other regulations concerning your studies, residence, conduct and behaviour: examples are regulations relating to examinations, the ownership and exploitation of intellectual property, harassment, the use of IT and library facilities, health and safety issues and legislative requirements such as data protection.
8. The key provisions which you need to be aware of are the Examination Regulations for Recognised Students, available at <http://www.admin.ox.ac.uk/examregs/2015-16/recostud/>, and the other provisions summarised in your Student Handbook, your Offer and in these Terms and Conditions.
9. By accepting your Offer you agree that the University may take disciplinary action against you for breach of its Statutes and Regulations and the Statements and Codes of Policy, Practice and Procedure, including the Code of Discipline. Such action could result in sanctions including suspension or termination of Registered Student Status.

Departmental Rules and Charges

10. You agree to comply with all departmental regulations, codes and guidelines published from time to time, and to pay any bench fees and charges which may be prescribed by the department for the facilities which you use.

Your Responsibilities

11. It is your responsibility:
 - a. to act as a responsible member of the University's community, including treating other members of the community and the public with courtesy and respect.
 - b. to progress your own academic studies.
 - c. to seek help or raise concerns if you are having difficulty in any area of your academic or pastoral life. For academic issues please contact your Academic Adviser or department in the first instance. A wide range of support is available from your department, central University services and fellow students. Further details of who to contact are set out in the Student Handbook.
 - d. to follow good academic practice, including following the University's policies on plagiarism, academic integrity in research and conflicts of interest. More information is available in the Student Handbook.
 - e. to ensure that your fees and other charges are paid when they are due. You are responsible for any non-payment even if your fees are being paid by a third party.
 - f. to obtain an appropriate visa if necessary and abide by any visa conditions. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary sanctions in addition to any legal consequences.

Academic Adviser Arrangements

12. Your Offer will be based on your choice of subject area. If you later ask to change subject area or Academic Adviser, this will have to be approved by your department and appropriate supervision may not be available either in your new subject or from an alternative Academic Adviser.

Fees and Payment

13. Details of the fees and charges you will have to pay the University are set out at in your Offer.
14. University fees will usually increase annually. In deciding the annual level of increase, the University will take into account a range of factors, including rises in the costs of delivering the programme, and changes in government funding. The increase will not exceed 4% each year, or the Retail Price Index (RPI) if higher. The fees that you will need to pay in any one academic year will be published before the first application deadline for the programme concerned. Normally this will be by September of the previous year.
15. The University will usually invoice you directly for your fees and you must usually pay your University fees in full for the year no later than 14 days after the start of term.
16. Failure to pay fees and charges when due may lead to sanctions, including suspension or termination of Registered Student Status.

Living Expenses including Accommodation

17. If you live in Oxford you will need to pay for your living costs such as food, accommodation, and personal items.
18. Information on the likely range of living costs is set out at <https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/graduate/fees-and-funding/living-costs?wssl=1>. You should allow for an estimated increase in living expenses of 2% each year

Intellectual Property

19. The University's position regarding ownership of Intellectual Property in students' work is set out in Statute XVI and is summarised in the Student Handbook.
20. You must inform your department in advance and in writing about any materials owned by you or by a third party which you intend to introduce to the department.
21. By accepting your offer you agree not to:
 - a. represent to any party that you are authorised to speak on behalf of the University or your department;
 - b. sign any document on behalf of the University or your department; or
 - c. use any of the names, marks, logos or letterheads of the University or your department except in the course of your participation in a University project and with the prior written permission of the Head of Department.

Business Purposes

22. You agree not to use University facilities for your own business purposes.

Confidentiality

23. You agree to treat details of any procedures, projects or research of which you become aware in the course of your work or your visits to the University as strictly confidential and not to disclose such information to any person without express written permission to do so, unless the information is already in the public domain.

Personal Data

24. By accepting your Offer, you agree to the University collecting and using your individual personal data, including, in exceptional circumstances, sensitive personal data. This will be done in accordance with the principles set out in the Data Protection Act 1998. These include ensuring that your data will only be used in a way which is fair, lawful and secure.
25. More information is available at <http://www.ox.ac.uk/students/life/it/studentrecord/data>.

Complaints Procedure

26. The University's complaints procedure is explained in the Student Handbook. Student complaints should be made to the Proctors' Office. There is a subsequent right to complain to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator.

Jurisdiction

27. Your contract with the University and any dispute arising from it (including non-contractual disputes) shall be governed by the laws of England and Wales and shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Courts.
