Making the Most of Your Day

There’s a lot to pack in during your visit to Oxford so please use the timetable below and the information in this guide to plan your time wisely. Remember that the University of Oxford is made up of colleges and departments spread around the city – there is no central campus. Use the maps on pages 18 and 20 to plan your route between venues.

The best times to visit the different venues are shown in the sample timetable below.

Top Tips

Events listed in this guide are all available on a drop-in basis, you do not need to have booked ahead. However, please do arrive early for sessions to make sure you get a place and to keep things running smoothly all day.

Advice for Parents and Carers

Parents and carers are very welcome to our Open Days. We know that many of you will have had to take a day off work or travel a long distance to be here today so we hope the advice below helps you make the most of your time here in Oxford.

- We run a variety of talks covering topics we think will be of particular interest to you. These include talks in the Open Day Information Centre about supporting an applicant and how to prepare for the transition from school to university (see page 14) as well as talks in colleges and departments (highlighted in the listings on pages 8–13).

- Parents and carers are also welcome to attend many of the other events in the programme but sometimes if a room is full and students might miss out, we will ask you to give up your place.

- Choosing a course is the most important decision for your child to make, so if they are not sure what they want to study, we suggest they focus on this. We advise all visitors to attend events in subject departments first and look around colleges later.

- Not every course is offered at every college so please check the table on page 6 showing which courses are offered by which college before deciding which ones to visit.

- Oxford’s Common Framework for Admissions means that the admissions process is the same at every college and your child will have a similar chance of being successful with their application no matter which college they apply to. You don’t need to attend more than one admissions talk in the day.

- Be aware that you are unlikely to have enough time to visit as many colleges as you might like – even visiting one or two will give you a good idea how college life here works.

- There will be lots of opportunities to talk to staff and students throughout the day so please encourage your child to ask lots of questions and to plan their day realistically using the information and advice in this guide.
VISITING COLLEGES

What is a college?
A college is a learning community, made up of academic and support staff, and students. If you study at Oxford you will live in a college and much of your teaching will happen there, in small groups called tutorials. Those who teach you are called tutors. You will have the chance to meet tutors today and if your application is shortlisted you will be interviewed by tutors in December.

By visiting colleges, we hope you will begin to understand how the tutorial system works and why we think it’s a great way to learn. You will live in your college for your first year and often for other years of your course. You will have meals there, make friends, participate in sports and social activities and have access to libraries, bars and a range of support and welfare services.

What can I see or do today?
Some colleges offer pre-booked programmes of talks and workshops. All offer tours and you are welcome to visit all the colleges at the opening times listed on pages 8-10. Current students will be happy to show you round and answer your questions about studying here and about student life at their college.

Some colleges also offer the opportunity to attend talks and meet subject tutors on a drop-in basis. However, please be aware that some areas of some colleges are not accessible for students. Visiting any of the colleges before you get here. But if you haven’t managed to do that, please read the advice below and use the information in this guide to decide which colleges to visit today.

Which college offers my course?
Confused about which colleges to visit? Don’t worry, you are not alone. This is one of the most common questions we get asked on Open Days.

We strongly suggest that you draw up a shortlist of colleges before you get here. But if you haven’t managed to do that, please read the advice below and use the information in this guide to decide which colleges to visit today.

Which college offers my course?
The first thing you need to do when deciding which colleges to visit is check which ones offer the course you want to study. Most colleges offer more courses. But not all colleges offer all courses. This table summarises the courses offered at each college.

You might also like to consider:
- The size of the college
- The location of the college (is it in the heart of the city centre or a few minutes away? Is it near your department building, the park, the river or the swimming pool?)
- How old or new it is
- Accommodation – how many years can you stay in college accommodation, where is it, how much it will cost
- Facilities – all colleges have a library, dining hall and common room but other resources do vary

Information about all of these considerations is available on the University website and in the prospectus, which you can pick up at venues today.

Check ox.ac.uk/whichcolleges for the latest information.

Don’t worry if you feel you have no strong preference for one college or another. Visiting any of the colleges will give you a good idea of how the college system works.

Frequently asked questions:
Which college is best for my subject?
Colleges do not have specialist subjects. Be assured that you will get very high standards of teaching in any of the subjects a college offers.

Which college is easiest to get into?
None are easy to get into! All colleges have signed up to a common set of rules and apply the same criteria to assessing applicants. If one college is over-subscribed, then candidates are reallocated to another college. Many students end up getting offered a place at a college they didn’t apply to.

Can’t someone else choose for me?
Yes. If you don’t want to, you don’t have to choose a college at all. Many students make an “open” application. This means they don’t name a college on their UCAS form and the University allocates the college which will consider them.
Visiting colleges is a great way to get an understanding of what sets Oxford apart from other universities. Descriptions of the most common events are listed below. If events become full, priority will be given to prospective students.

Admissions talk/Q&A: These talks will cover the application process and what factors admissions tutors take into account during the selection process. At a college, this is likely to include advice on choosing a college.

Meet the students: Your opportunity to speak to current students, who will be able to answer questions on student life, provide information about their college or course, and share their experience of the admissions process.

Parents, carers and teachers talk/Q&A: These often run alongside events which are only available to prospective students. They will cover topics that are often of concern to parents, such as welfare support, finances, and accommodation, as well as information on admissions. These events are highlighted in orange throughout this listing.

SUBJECT DEPARTMENT EVENTS

Oxford students are not only members of a college, but also members of a department with access to other libraries and facilities. Depending on the course you choose, you would usually have your lectures and do any laboratory work in your department with students from other colleges. Open Days offer a rare opportunity to visit departments and meet tutors and current students as well as attend events. If events become full, priority will be given to prospective students.

Meet the students: An opportunity to speak to current students, who will be able to answer questions on student life, provide information about their college or course and share their experience of the admissions process.

Parents, carers and teachers talk/Q&A: These often run alongside events which are only available to prospective students. They will offer advice on how best to support an applicant, and will usually provide an opportunity to ask questions. These events are highlighted in blue throughout this listing.

OPEN DAY INFORMATION CENTRE

Open 09:00–17:00, Examination Schools, 75–81 High Street, Oxford, OX1 4BG (map ref: )

Colleges and departments are the best places to meet tutors and students and to find out all you need to know about the course you are interested in and about studying at Oxford. However, if you’ve still got any questions, or if the event you planned to attend is full, then please come to the Open Day Information Centre where there will be information desks available all day.

UNDERSTANDING OXFORD – TALKS FOR ALL

Student Finance and Careers

When: 14:30–15:10
Where: South School, First Floor, Examination Schools

Hear all the latest information about tuition fees and living costs at Oxford. We will talk you through the funding available to UK and EU students to cover these costs, including UK government funding and Oxford’s generous, non-repayable bursaries. A current student will be on hand to answer any questions about financing your studies at Oxford.

We will complete the picture by updating you on career prospects for Oxford graduates as well as presenting the comprehensive career support and development opportunities available to Oxford students during and after their studies here.

Applying to Oxford

When: 15:20–16:00
Where: South School, First Floor, Examination Schools

If you haven’t attended a college’s or department’s admissions talk earlier in the day, we will talk you through the whole process, and suggest how to make a competitive application.

Student Life

When: 16:00–16:25 and repeated 16:35–17:00
Where: Room 6, Ground Floor, Examination Schools

Hosted by Oxford SU (Students’ Union) and Oxford University Sport, our students will answer questions on a range of topics such as clubs and societies, night life, work-life balance, student support and the hundreds of non-academic opportunities available at Oxford. Please note that this session will not cover admission to the University. Questions about admissions will be answered at colleges, departments and at the admissions stand upstairs in the Open Day Information Centre.

TALKS FOR PARENTS AND CARERS

Why not come and have some of your own questions answered? Staff and students will share their knowledge and experiences of our admissions process and aspects of life at Oxford. Many colleges and departments also offer talks specifically for parents and carers and these are highlighted in the listings on pages 8–13.

Supporting the transition to university

When: 11:00–11:30
Where: Room 5, Ground Floor, Examination Schools

How can you help your child successfully make the transition from school to university? Our support and welfare team will advise on supporting students during this challenging time as well as explaining the wide range of welfare services offered by the University to all its students. Questions will be welcome.

How parents and carers can support an Oxford applicant

When: 12:00–12:30
Where: Room 6, Ground Floor, Examination Schools

As well as answering your questions, we will explain our application timeline, highlighting key dates and focusing on how you may support your child at each stage.

TALKS FOR TEACHERS

Teachers’ Forum

When: 13:30–14:15
Where: Room 6, Ground Floor, Examination Schools

A chance for teachers to meet with admissions staff, receive an update on recent changes to the Oxford admissions process and ask questions about how to support students who are considering Oxford. This session will also give advice on how to access Oxford’s many outreach resources.

Sports Centre

Where: Oxford University Sport, Jardine Lane, off Iffley Road, OX4 1EQ
When: 06:00 – 22:30
This is the main University sports facility, although many individual Oxford colleges have their own sports facilities too. The centre includes a swimming pool, gym, studio, sports halls, indoor squash courts, indoor rugby and tennis courts; a café, a variety of sports pitches and, of course, the athletics track made famous by Roger Bannister’s sub-four-minute mile in 1954. Throughout the day, prospective students will be welcome to explore the centre at their leisure. To save yourself time and find out all about sport at Oxford, including details on all our 80 sports clubs, we recommend visiting Oxford University Sport at their desk at the Open Day Information Centre, Examination Schools (map ref: 4), and attending the ‘Student Life’ talk there to hear from the Sports Federation President (a recent graduate).
