

Course Information Sheet for entry in 2021-22: Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA)

About the course

The Oxford Executive MBA is a part-time, postgraduate modular programme designed to help senior professionals realise their potential whilst delivering international general management competence to their organisations.

The programme is delivered in 14 one-week core modules plus 2-4 elective weeks depending on the four elective subjects selected. The September intake is delivered in one-week modules over 24 months and the January intake is delivered in one-week modules over 21 months. Around an additional one or two months is required to complete assessment, meaning the course length totals 26 and 24 months respectively. There is no difference in content between the two intakes.

Core modules usually start on a Monday morning and end on a Friday evening. Elective modules and overseas modules will include weekends. During module weeks it is recommended that you stay in or near to Oxford. The courses are complemented by flexible study (reading, research, writing assignments) completed away from the business school. Courses are usually delivered in person/face-to-face. If appropriate/needed, up to three modules can be delivered online.

The programme is made up of:

- core courses, including two overseas courses that offer you a comprehensive understanding of modern business. Overseas modules are adapted yearly intake to intake
- elective courses, selected by you, including two overseas options designed to develop your individual skills and specialisations
- integrative projects, the Global Opportunities and Threats (GOTO) project and the Entrepreneurship Project, both done in teams, which draw together and apply themes and topics studied on the programme.

Throughout the programme, there will be a focus on leadership development including group and individual coaching sessions as well as sessions and workshops from the Career Development Team.

Saïd Business School's virtual learning platform and networks enable remote users to retrieve material for core modules and project work, and access the library's electronic resources including programme reading lists and a collection of business intelligence databases.

Please note that this course is paperless. This means that paper handouts will not be provided for most of your courses. All presentations and most of the readings will be uploaded to our virtual learning environment. For pedagogical reasons this may be in advance of, just before or immediately after teaching sessions. Handouts will be provided for certain courses based on specific requirements, eg unreliable internet availability or where handouts operate more like a textbook than slides.

Supervision

The allocation of graduate supervision for this course is the responsibility of the Saïd Business School and it is not always possible to accommodate the preferences of incoming graduate students to work with a particular member of staff.

Assessment

The assessment regime is a combination of examinations, group and individual assignments. Assessment methods are tailored to most effectively achieve desired learning outcomes

Changes to courses

The University will seek to deliver this course in accordance with the description set out above. However, there may be situations in which it is desirable or necessary for the University to make changes in course provision, either before or after registration. These may include significant changes made necessary by a pandemic (including Covid-19), epidemic or local health emergency. For further information, please see the University's Terms and Conditions (<http://www.graduate.ox.ac.uk/terms>) and our page on changes to courses (<http://www.graduate.ox.ac.uk/coursechanges>).

Total course fees for entry in September 2021 or January 2022

Fee status	Total Course fees
Home (UK, Republic of Ireland, Channel Islands & Isle of Man)	£94,800
Overseas (including EU)	£94,800

Course fees cover your teaching as well as other academic services and facilities provided to support your studies. Unless specified in the additional cost information (below), course fees do not cover your accommodation, residential costs or other living costs. They also don't cover any additional costs and charges that are outlined in the additional cost information.

Deposits

If your application is successful, you will be asked to pay a deposit against your course fees at the application stage as a condition of your offer. The deposit amount and date by which payment must be made are shown below.

Fee status	Amount of deposit	Date by which deposit must be paid
Home/ROI (including Islands)	£14,220	30 days from the date on initial offer letter
Overseas	£14,220

The department's website provides further information about deposits for this course.

Additional cost information

There are currently two compulsory overseas modules and two optional overseas electives. In relation to electives, participants cover all costs of travel and accommodation. In the case of compulsory modules, the school pays for accommodation and meals, but students pay their own travel. Please note that this course requires that you are primarily taught in Oxford, and you will need to incur travel and accommodation costs to attend the course if you do not live in the Oxford area.

Living costs

In addition to your course fees, you will need to ensure that you have adequate funds to support your living costs for the duration of your course.

If you are studying part-time your living costs may vary depending on your personal circumstances but you must still ensure that you will have sufficient funding to meet these costs for the duration of your course.

The likely living costs for 2021-22 are published below. These costs are based on a single, full-time graduate student, with no dependants, living in Oxford. We provide the cost per month so you can multiply up by the number of months you expect to live in Oxford.
