Section R: Data Protection Notice and Declaration
Please read the following Data Protection Notice and Declaration carefully. By signing the Declaration you confirm your acceptance of the statements which form the Declaration. If you do not sign this form, we cannot process your application.
DATA PROTECTION NOTICE

What is "Personal data"

Personal data is information that relates to you. In the course of completing this application form, you have provided the University with information about yourself, which is known as personal data. The notice set out below explains how this personal data will be processed by the University.

What will the University do with your data?

The University and its Colleges will collect, process, share and use personal data for the purposes of processing and assessing your application for study, for administration and (where applicable) for funding purposes.

Your personal data may be used and shared with third parties, some of whom may be located outside the European Economic Area (e.g. where you have an educational background outside of the EEA). This sharing of your personal data will happen in the following circumstances:
1. Where it is necessary to verify your identity, qualifications, work experience, references and any submitted work.
2. Where you are eligible for a scholarship and the selection panel includes third party donors. For the majority of scholarships, your eligibility will be automatically assessed by the University, and, in these cases, there is no need for you to submit a separate application.

The University, and any Colleges of the University, will normally only discuss the progress of your application with you, unless you have nominated a third party on your application form.

If any information or statement provided on or to support this application form is not true, accurate, current and complete, or any supporting document is not entirely the applicant’s own original work, except where clearly stated otherwise, the University, or any College of the University, may process and use this fact as relevant personal data. Data relating to inaccurate or incomplete information may be used and shared with third parties, including Higher Education institutions, some of which may be located overseas (including outside the European Economic Area), to the extent necessary for the purpose of verifying the information you have provided and preventing fraudulent or dishonest applications for study, funding and/or visas.

If you become a registered student, any personal data collected by the University as a result of this application will form part of your student record. If you receive an offer to study at the University you will receive information about how the University processes student data at the point that you receive your offer, however if you would like to know more you can access the University's Student Data Protection Notice.

Special Category Data

This includes data relating to disability, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity and criminal convictions. If you disclose information about a disability this will be passed to the University’s Disability Advisory Service and appropriate administrators in departments and colleges so that appropriate support and reasonable adjustments can be made where necessary. More information is available on the Graduate Admissions website.

If you disclose information about a criminal conviction, the University will process the information as set out in the Graduate Admissions Criminal Convictions policy.

Special category data will not be available to those assessing your application.

Retention

If you are successful in receiving an offer to study, all records and correspondence relating to your application and supporting materials will form part of your record and will be kept in the same way as all other student records.

If you are unsuccessful, your application and supporting materials will be retained until the end of the following admissions cycle.

Legal Basis of Processing

The legal basis for processing your information is that this processing is necessary for the University to fulfil its contractual responsibilities to you and to consider your application for admission.

Where the University processes information about your health, this information will be processed because you have chosen to provide it to us and we therefore have your consent to proceed.

Student and Alumni Groups

If your application is successful, there are a number of alumni groups and student societies and groups (including those outside the European Economic Area) which would be interested in contacting you so that they can invite you to participate in their activities, for example, by inviting you to events that might be of particular interest to you or that might help you to prepare for Oxford. The University will use your email address to contact you on behalf of these groups to provide you with details of these events so that you can choose whether or not you want to become involved.

Data Subject Rights

You have the right to request access to your information, subject to certain restrictions. Any such requests should be addressed to the University’s Information Compliance Team at data.protection@admin.ox.ac.uk.

Because it is necessary for the University to process your information in order to fulfil its contractual obligations to you, it is not possible for the University to stop processing your data or to delete it without ceasing to consider your application.

If you are dissatisfied with the way the University has used your information you should raise these concerns with the University’s Information Compliance Team in the first instance, at the address shown above.

If you remain dissatisfied, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner’s Office.

DECLARATION

I confirm that the information I have provided on this application form is (to the best of my knowledge) true, accurate, current and complete; and I agree to notify the University promptly if any information contained on this application form should change, in order to keep it true, accurate, current and complete.

PLEASE NOTE: All admissions decisions taken by the University of Oxford and its Colleges rely on the statements made on the application form and on the supporting documents supplied by you and your referee. This information will be held and used for the purpose of processing your application for study, for student administration and, where relevant, for funding purposes.

If the University, or any College of the University, believes that any information or statement, including references, contained on your application form may not be true, accurate, current and complete, or that any document submitted in support of your application may not be entirely your own original work, except where clearly stated otherwise, it may take any necessary steps to verify that information or statement, or to confirm that any supporting document is entirely your own original work, except where clearly stated otherwise.

As part of the admissions process the University may use a plagiarism detection system. This system screens any written work submitted as part of your application for plagiarism, paraphrasing and collusion. The plagiarism detection system will store on its database any written work submitted for screening. For the University’s definition of plagiarism and more information on how the plagiarism detection system works please see the Application Guide (www.graduate.ox.ac.uk/appli...ationguide).

If, in the opinion of the University, or any College of the University, any information or statement, including references, provided on this application form is not true, accurate, current and complete, or any supporting document is not entirely your own original work, except where clearly stated otherwise, the University, or any College of the University, retains the right to reject your application. If you have been made an offer by the University, or any College of the University, then the University, or any College of the University, may in these circumstances withdraw or amend that offer. If you have been admitted as a student, you may be subject to disciplinary action which could result in your expulsion from the University and your College.
